Who is Noura Al-Mousa?

Noura Almousa was born in the village of Arairah, in Alahsa. Because Nora's mother passed away before she was one year old, Nora moved to her aunt's care in Wadi Al-Ajman while she was still an infant. When Nora reached the age of six, she moved to Alahsa to live in her grandfather's house where her father and uncle taught her how to read and write; signs of her passion for art appeared so early. In addition to her passion for art and heritage, Nora was known for her love of good deeds and of being a good-mannered person. Her love of art kept her in people's memory though she has passed away. Even after her death, Dar Nora Almosa is still bigheartedly open to welcome those who interested in art and heritage.
